44 MAGNUM SURPRISE! These pictures have been showing up in various places all over the Web. Same pictures...varied stories behind them. The latest version purports the cause as "Chinese Ammo," and warns against buying Chinese anything. To my knowledge you can't get 44 magnum ammo from any of the Chinese sources, it being a limited sales item they aren't willing to make. The real truth behind this catastrophe, is most likely linked to bad reloads, courtesy of the gun's owner, or questionable gun show reloads he bought "cheap". The MORAL of this story is to be wise buying and/or making ammo. If you reload, learn to do it right and safely...no shortcuts, no interruptions, no recipes that disagree with the published data in the manuals of major bullet manufacturers. No alcohol either.
