

I love AR's, but ... I really hate their stocks.....kind of like putting a 2 x 4 against your shoulder. Lookie what Hogue came out with! Overmolded, padded stocksyes!..... and at the cheek too! And they even look good!

What do you all think about the idea of sharing cool new things like this on the front page when I don't have any important local pictures to share? I would love to receive emails from you folks with a good new product you discovered, a cat's meow even, that you want to share with the club. I will pick one to use for cases like this!
